

Media consolidation is a dangerous thing. Just look at what the Sinclair Broadcasting group has seen fit to do! The laws allow Sinclair and other groups to use the public airwaves for free but they are supposed to serve the public interest. How dare they decide that my public interest is served by propaganda and slander! It is too obvious that their plans to air an openly anti-Kerry, political mockumentary is the result of their political leanings and an attempt to disenfranchise Democratic voters. They have no intention of giving equal time to the Democrats, any more than they will admit that this is a political ploy of the lowest calibre. There are too many people in the United States who believe anything they see or hear on television, without critical evaluation. Sinclair is taking extreme advantage of this fact, just before the national election.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
